

LONG SESSION IS AHEAD AT ALBANY

Governor Reads Message Tomorrow—Caucuses To Choose Leaders Tonight—Senator Walker Majority Leader.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Jan. 2.—With every indication pointing to one of the longest sessions in years, the 1923 legislature will convene at noon tomorrow.

Unless Governor Smith changes his mind, he will go before a joint session of the two lawmaking bodies and read his annual message. This will be the first time in years a governor has personally read his message.

The governor spent a greater part of today in conference with Democratic leaders from both houses.

Officers of both senate and assembly will be decided upon when the members caucus tonight. H. Edmund Machold, of Jefferson, will be re-elected speaker of the assembly. Simon L. Adler of Rochester, will be re-elected majority leader, and Charles D. Donohue, re-elected minority leader. Harry W. Haines of Westchester, is expected to be again chosen as sergeant at arms of the lower house.

Democratic James J. Walker, Democrat of New York, last year minority leader of the senate, will be elected majority leader for the 1923 session. Senator Walker is booming his clerk, Edward L. Stanton of Albany, for clerk of the senate, but the latter's election is not assured.

There is every indication that Senator Clayton R. Lusk, Republican, of Cortland, last year majority leader, will be the minority leader this year. Friends of Senator Frederick L. Davenport, of Clinton, chairman of the joint legislative committee on taxation and retrenchment, have been booming him for the post, but he said today he did not want it.

Following a conference today between Speaker Machold and Senator Walker, it was announced the legislature, after hearing the governor's message, would adjourn until next Monday night at 8 o'clock. The adjournment was taken because the leaders in both houses are prepared to announce the standing committees.

Until last year, the legislature, after the reading of the governor's message, always adjourned for one week.

The Democrats will have a majority of one in the senate, and the Republicans a majority of 12 in the assembly. It is understood arrangements have been made so that every Democratic senator will be chairman of a committee.

Assemblyman Joseph A. McGinley of Chautauque, again will be chairman of the important ways and means committee in the assembly.

Virtually every member of both houses, here to attend the inauguration of Governor Smith yesterday, has remained for the opening session of the legislature.

"Y" OPEN HOUSE GREATLY ENJOYED

New Year's Day By Boys In the Morning and Older Folks In the Afternoon and Evening—Moving Pictures, Athletic Cartoonist, Basketball, Volley Ball, Musical Program and Refreshments Make Up Program.

Monday was a true visitors' day at the Y. M. C. A. The building was thrown open to the public for the holiday, and many special attractions helped to entertain those who accepted the cordial invitation of the association. The open house was a huge success, for despite the weather conditions, people came throughout the day, making the total number of visitors large.

A special program for boys was given in the auditorium at 9:30. Over a hundred and fifty boys braved the storm to be on hand for the promised big time, and no one showed any signs of remorse for doing so, for the entire program was interesting. A two reel Harold Lloyd comedy was the first feature, which gave the boys a good hearty laugh.

When the comedy was finished, Albert Ben Wegner of New York City took the stage, and filled the next hour with solid amusement. "Weg" is first of all a sketcher, but in the course of his program he becomes somewhat of an athlete, acrobat and magician. He started off by drawing cartoons of prominent men, then changed to trick cartooning, drawing first one picture and after expressing his dislike to some point in it changing it to suit his taste. He then did a few gymnastic stunts, and while turning around in the acting, managed to make a few dabs on the paper, all of which soon found the form of another sketch of a prominent man. He turned his back to the easel and drew, took the crayon between his teeth and made a sketch by working his head back and forth. Not satisfied with that, easy stunt, "Weg" proceeded to a more difficult task of drawing with his feet. Covering first one foot with a boot that held a crayon he began to sketch, then put a similar boot on the other foot and made a picture using both feet. In this work Mr. Wegner showed wonderful control of the muscles of his feet and legs. All the while he was making these cartoons, he sang or recited. When he had shown his skill in art, he again turned athlete and finished up his little act by a very skillful drill with the Indian clubs. To say the least Mr. Wegner's act was clever, interesting and highly entertaining.

The afternoon officially opened the program for the older folks. Several teams of the business men's class engaged in volleyball. Two basketball teams from Student A played a very fast game, the result being a 45-32 victory for Captain Mac Fadden's "Ironclads" over Captain Bob Corrigan's "Invincibles." Some of the younger fellows held a swimming match. At 4:30 the crowd adjourned to the auditorium, where they were entertained by groups from the different churches of this city. The program consisted of the following: Piano Solo.....Miss Gladys Raichele Vocal Solo.....Miss Maud Weaver Selected Readings.....Miss Francella Anderson Instrumental Solo.....Miss Ruth Scott Violin Solo.....Miss C. C. Cumberly Vocal Duet.....Misses Dorothy and Mae Dohnken Piano Solo.....Miss Mildred LeRoy Violin Solo.....Miss C. C. Cumberly

A two reel comedy was also shown after these numbers, following which refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

In the evening, at eight o'clock a musical concert was given by the Aida quartet. This quartet is composed of four young ladies, two of whom play the trumpets and two horns, the Misses Clara Haven and Eleanor Betts, trumpets, Ethel Clark, F. Horn and Cora Sauter Eb-Horn. They give a varied program of selections on the horns, piano and cello, and readings. These young ladies are artists in their line, their entertainment proving very interesting. The selections by the brass quartet were especially good. The program:

Grand March.....Edward Miller Especially written for, and dedicated to the quartet.

Readings.....Miss Haven "The Trumpeter" "Mary Jane Brown" "A Desultory Achievement" Cello Solo.....Miss Sauter Trumpet Solo.....Miss Haven "Forest Eagle" "The Rosary" Piano Solo.....Miss Clark "The Dream of Love" Brass Quartet..... "Annie Laurie" "Kerry Dance"

Reading.....Miss Haven "The Finger of God"

Cello Solo.....Miss Sauter "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" Horn and Trumpet Duet.....Misses Haven and Sauter "Miserere" from "Il Trovatore" Readings.....Miss Haven "The Wedding Rehearsal" "Kneading the Dough"

Brass Quartet..... "Lucia di Lammermoor" Donizetti

The solos were accompanied by Miss Clark on the piano.

After this concert refreshments were again served by the ladies of the auxiliary, and the house was closed at a late hour, with all the guests well pleased.

MUST USE NEW LICENSE PLATES

Automobile drivers operating cars with the 1922 license plates attached will be placed under arrest by the Kingston police department. The owners have had several months in which to obtain the new plates at the county clerk's office and there is no excuse for neglecting to do so. Chief Wood stated today that the patrolmen had received orders to make arrests of any caught using the old plates.

Rome, Jan. 2.—Hostilities between royal guards and Fascisti have reached serious proportions at some places, according to advices received here. At Naples guardsmen attacked the Fascisti headquarters, burning the furniture.

Hostile demonstrations against the Fascisti by Royal Guards were reported from Genoa, Pisa and Parma. The fighting between Royal Guards and Fascisti at Turin was more serious than first reported. An official communique said that three guardsmen and one member of the Fascisti were killed and 15 wounded.

Rioting at Turin began on Sunday.

WILLIE KEELER DIES IN POVERTY

Old Time Yankee Ball Player, Most Scientific Hitter of All Time and Beloved by Fans, Heeds Call of Great Empire.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, January 2.—"Wee Willie" Keeler, one of the greatest ball players of all time, is dead. He died yesterday in his home in Brooklyn, the victim of tuberculosis and poverty. Once a great figure in the world of baseball, he played before the era of big salaries and had little money to care for his wants during his declining years.

Keeler played with the Dodgers, the Yanks and the Giants and the old Orioles of Baltimore and still holds several major league records in hitting; the most impressive of which was the feat of hitting safely more than two hundred times a season for eight consecutive years between 1894 and 1901. He led the National League in 1897 and 1898, establishing his highest average, .432, during the former season. This has been exceeded only by the mark of .433 made by Hugh Duffy.

Another of Keeler's records was hung up in hitting safely in forty-four consecutive games and for his nineteen years in the major leagues compiling a batting average of .305. "Hit him where they ain't," was the cryptic phrase of Keeler used in explaining his success, and that is exactly what he did when he stroled to the plate with a short, heavy bat on his shoulder. He was the most scientific of all hitters and his ability to poke the ball through the opposing defense was the secret of his averages. He was also a marvelous bunter and a fine defensive outfielder.

Keeler was in his 51st year when the Great Empire called him out. Arrangements for a large funeral are being made today.

DANIEL B. DEYO DIED SUDDENLY

Well Known Lawyer, Clerk of the Ulster County Surrogate's Court, Expired at His Home Monday Afternoon.

DANIEL B. DEYO.

Daniel B. Deyo, for many years clerk of the Ulster county surrogate's court, died suddenly Monday afternoon at his home, No. 207 Washington avenue.

Mr. Deyo was a son of the late Dr. Abram Deyo of Gardiner, who for many years was one of the leading physicians of southern Ulster, and was a direct lineal descendant of Christian Deyo, who was one of the original settlers and patentees of New Paltz.

He was born at Newburgh and his early life was spent on the farm of his grandfather, Daniel Bevier, in the town of Gardiner. His education in the common schools was continued at the Fort Edward Collegiate Institute at Fort Edward, N. Y., from which he was graduated in 1882.

After his graduation, Mr. Deyo came to Kingston and began the study of law in the office of Judge Alton B. Parker, who was then surrogate of Ulster county. He was admitted to the bar in 1886 and since then had practiced his profession in this city.

For a time Mr. Deyo first served as clerk of the surrogate's court under the late Surrogate Charles Davis, and later under Surrogate Walter N. Gill. He was serving as clerk of that court at the time of his death, having been appointed by Surrogate George F. Kaufman.

During the years 1893, 1894 and 1896 Mr. Deyo was counsel of the board of supervisors. In 1893 he was appointed United States commissioner for the Southern district of New York and held that position at the time of his death.

Politically Mr. Deyo was a Republican and for several years was secretary of the Ulster county Republican committee. He attended many conventions of his party as a delegate and always was an active party worker.

Mr. Deyo married Mary Emma Osborne of West, Somers, Westchester county, daughter of J. Allen Osborne, who with one daughter, Mildred, wife of Dr. Vern L. Cowan of Springfield, Mass., survive him. He is also survived by one brother, Abram Deyo, of Gardiner, and one sister, Cornelia, wife of Maurice W. Ehinge, of this city.

The funeral will take place from his late residence on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock and the remains will be taken to the New Paltz Cemetery for interment.

BONAR LAW PRESENTS HIS PLAN AT REPARATIONS CONFERENCE

Long Standing Divergence of French and British Interests Makes Settlement Seem No Nearer Unless Britain Lets France Go Into Ruhr In Return For Unhindered Grab of Mosul—Mussolini Absent.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, Jan. 2.—Three different sets of plans for settling the German reparations problem were submitted to the Allied premiers' conference this afternoon. They were handed in by Premier A. Bonar Law, of England; Premier Poincare, of France; and Marquis della Torretta, of Italy. The session lasted two hours and 15 minutes, adjourning at 4:20 o'clock. Another session will be held tomorrow.

Paris, Jan. 2.—Great Britain's new program for settling the German reparations problem, the last plan the British will consent to draw up—was outlined by Premier A. Bonar Law of England, to his colleagues in the Allied conference today. The same obstacles which have hindered every previous meeting of the Allied statesmen confronted the present conference.

The French want additional sanctions imposed upon Germany to guarantee future payments of indemnity while the British program is less drastic. One French suggestion is that the Ruhr Basin, containing Germany's coal fields, be surrounded by troops while actual "occupation" is carried out by civilian workers, technicians and police. Numerous reports were current. One—which was subsequently denied—was that England and France might make a deal by which the British would support French seizure of the Ruhr district while the French supported British occupation of the Turkish oil fields in Mosul.

The United States is not represented here, although the American views are known, thanks to the speech of Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, proposing an international commission of experts to fix the exact amount of indemnity Germany must pay. Premier Poincare, representative of France, is presiding. Premier Bonar Law represents England and Premier Theunis represents Belgium. Premier Mussolini, of Italy, failed to come. Italy is represented by Marquis della Torretta.

The British plan for solving the reparations issue was roughly outlined by the foreign office as follows:

First—Reduction of German indemnity.

Second—A German indemnity moratorium.

Third—Establishing of a commission composed of Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, United States and one neutral to sit at Berlin to recover reparations as they fall due, obtaining as much of the full amount as possible.

Fourth—Establishing of a commission composed of Britain, France, Italy, Belgium, United States and one neutral to sit at Berlin to recover reparations as they fall due, obtaining as much of the full amount as possible.

LECTURING HERE ON DENTISTRY

Dr. S. R. Meeker, Oral Hygiene Inspector of the State Department of Education, gave a very interesting and instructive lecture on dentistry at Clintondale this past week. The formation of a baby's teeth was shown and common fallacies in regard to both children's and adult's teeth were brought out. It was shown how much of our dental difficulty might be prevented or helped, if taken care of in the early stages. Many questions were asked by the audience.

Dr. Meeker who is connected with the State Department of Education in Albany has given the week of January 8, to the Ulster County Home Bureau and will lecture in ten different communities during this week. The schedule will appear later in the week.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

by MARY GRAHAM BONNER

MUSK-OX WAYS

"Listen to me, my child," said Mother Musk-Ox, "and I will tell you of the family ways."

"You are my only child and you are a beautiful young musk-ox. Yes, you are as beautiful a young musk-ox as there could be, I know."

"Perhaps when we join the herd and all go traveling together there will be other Musk-ox mothers who will not agree with me."

"But I will not mind for they will know they are right and that I am wrong."

"So we will all be quite happy and contented and quite sure our own opinion is right."

"Now I like to give all my attention to you—that is I like to take care of one child at a time. I wouldn't be like some animals who welcome a number of babies."

"I feel that I can only properly take care of one at a time."

"The great danger in our lives is the approach of wolves. Always regard wolves with fear and keep away from them."

"We have not the best of eyesight but we can smell things from afar and in that way we can protect ourselves."

"We can run quickly when danger is near even though we are such huge creatures."

"For we are big. We look something like a buffalo though we belong to both the cattle creatures and the Sheep family."

"My Only Child."

"Oh, yes, we can run quickly and we can hide in the rocks and we can get up steep places which are hard for others to climb."

"And you must follow the usual Musk-Ox ways. You too must learn to do all these things, my dear Musk-Ox child, the joy and pride of Mother Musk-Ox's heart."

"When you grow to be big you must do as we will all do for you. When danger is so close that there is nothing we can do, all of the grown-up musk-ox gather in a circle about our children, and then, with our heads out and a circle of horns to attack the enemy, we are ready."

"But the children we protect. We do this even against our dreadful enemies, the wolves."

"Yes, we protect our children. They cannot protect themselves as we can protect them."

"They cannot do what we can do. So we keep them safe from harm, and we stand about them, ready to face the danger."

"If our circle remains unbroken then our children are saved. And oh, many has been the splendidly brave circle of musk-oxen which would not be broken—and so the children were saved."

"And when you become a grown-up you must do the same for the younger ones."

"I will, Mother Musk-Ox," said her child. "I will not be a coward."

"With such Musk-Ox bravery as an example I would be ashamed of myself if I were ever called a coward, or if ever I did anything which would sully any one to call me a coward."

"I will be brave, Mother Musk-Ox."

"Of course you will, my dear," she said.

"We live far, far North and of course it is cold in these parts," Mother Musk-Ox continued.

"Our summer is a very short one. We do not see very much of the sun."

"For during the winter there are long weeks and even months when we only have night!"

"No daytime at all, only night."

"And yet we do not complain. We have not chosen the best climate, nor have we chosen the best land, nor have we chosen a country where it is easy to get along."

"We rather like the struggle that we have to put up with here in order to get along."

"It seems rather fine not to lead a lazy, worthless life."

"It seems then as though it were so nice to feel that in spite of all obstacles we are holding our own and getting along and living and protecting one another."

"Yes, we have not chosen easy paths to follow, we have chosen hard ones, worthy of our musk-oxen mettle—which means our musk-oxen character."

"For we would not want to be weak and flabby and pampered."

Correct.

YULETIDE COOKIES

For the Christmas goodies we are particularly anxious to have them attractive to the eye as well as tasty to the palate.

Paris Sticks.—Take three cups of chopped almonds, two and one-half cups of pulverized sugar, the whites of five eggs—beaten stiff, the grated rind of two lemons. Mix the ingredients and roll out on powdered sugar, cut into strips an inch wide and bake in paraffined lined pans in a slow oven.

Sand Cookies.—Beat two eggs, add one cupful of sugar and beat until the sugar is dissolved. Add four tablespoonsful of softened butter and work in flour to make a mixture to roll. Dust the board thickly with granulated sugar, sprinkle the top with sugar and roll in lightly with the rolling pin. Cut with a doughnut cutter, and decorate with three halves of blanched almonds spaced evenly, points to the center. Bake in a moderate oven.

Coffee Cookies.—Beat two eggs with a cupful of sugar until very light, add four tablespoonsful of shortening (bacon fat may be used for this recipe), add one cupful of strong, warm coffee and three cupfuls of flour sifted with two teaspoonsful of baking powder. Roll quickly, cut with a large cutter and bake in a moderate oven until well browned.

Grandmother's Cookies.—Take one cupful of unsalted butter, cream it with one cupful of granulated sugar using a wooden spoon. Add one cupful of sour cream, one cupful of New Orleans molasses and stir until smooth. Add one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-quarter teaspoonful each of allspice and nutmeg, one-half teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonsful of soda to the flour. Use as little flour as possible; chill the mixture first, which will aid in the rolling out. Pat one-third of an inch in thickness and cut out with a large cutter, five inches in diameter. Place on tins and bake in a moderate oven with the greatest care. They are a luxury but are worth the cost.

One Apple Cider Vinegar. Vinegar of the kind which is made from whole, fresh apples is the only one which can be sold in this state as apple cider vinegar if the determination reached in the supreme court in Rochester in a recent case is sustained. According to the supreme court decision, vinegar must not be sold as apple and cider vinegar unless it is made from the whole, fresh fruit; and vinegar made from evaporated apples, cores of apples or "chops" will not meet the requirements of the law.

THE NEW PIRATES.

For many years there had been no pirates in the world, except in out-of-the-way places such as the Chinese coast inlets and remote waters of the East Indies. Civilization had advanced so far beyond them that they lingered only where law was lax or weak and even there on the verge of extinction. But now a new kind of pirate is actually doing business along the Atlantic coast of the United States and even in the neighborhood of Sandy Hook. The new pirates are not bloody cut-throats of the ancient type. They do not fly the black flag, or rake the decks of merchant ships with old fashioned cannon shot, or board these ships with shouts and drawn cutlasses, or make the crew walk the plank, or set fire to their victims after they have taken of their loot. Yet they are a terror to all and sundry bootlegging craft that steal up from the Bahamas with fluid fortunes on board.

The new pirates look like quite respectable citizens as they steam or gasoline out from land. They approach the smuggling craft as friends and pretended purchasers, but after they have boarded a schooner loaded with bottles, kegs and barrels intended for the alleviation of American thirst at high rates and spotted the "goods," they suddenly draw automatics, cause all hands to go up and to be kept up until the cargo, or as much of it as the pirate vessel can receive and still manage to keep afloat, is transferred. Then the new pirates, with their "guns" ready to the last, steam or gasoline away with jeers and without a cent paid for the captured richness. Of course these new pirates run risks and may get into trouble as they later turn the stolen goods into cash, but

HAPPIEST XMAS AT THE CITY HOME

One of the places in our city where the Christmas spirit seemed to be particularly in evidence was at the city home. Not only were those who make up the home "family" most generously remembered, but they were all so very appreciative of all that was done to make Christmas 1922 a merry one, thus helping themselves to add to the Christmas festivity. The following gifts were received for Christmas:

Bags of candy and fruit from the Gem Society of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church; candy from Terpening's; candy from Nekos's; Little silk bags filled with nick nacks for the women from the Needle Work Guild; tobacco pipes and one year's subscription to the Christian Herald from the Men's Bible Class of the Fair Street Reformed Church; $1 for the Christmas tree from Mrs. Fitzpatrick; flannel undershirts for all of the women, a year's subscription to the Ladies' Home Journal and candy for all the men and women from the Misses Kice; a delicious little Christmas cake for each member of the family from Miss Riskey's Sunday School Class of the St. James M. E. Church; little cakes for all from Miss McGill; bags of fruit, candy, cake, etc., for each one from the W. C. T. U.; $5 from the Lend-A-Hand Society of the Dr. C. O. Sahler Sanitarium; $5 from the Knights of Columbus; three dozen oranges and three dozen bananas from a friend; a quantity of oranges from A. H. Gildersleeve; a present for each woman from Mrs. Sam Bernstein; tobacco from a friend; tobacco from the Knights of Columbus; Victrola records from the Home Department of the St. James M. E. Church; aprons and handkerchiefs for the women and tobacco for the men from the Catholic Daughters of America; an individual box of candy for each one from Miss Cora Hughes; a box containing candy, and an orange, ice cream and cake, a Christmas card each, also a Christmas envelope containing a silver piece for each one from the Young Peoples' Societies of Christian Endeavor and the Epworth Leagues of the city; 10 quarts of ice cream from Frank Coykendall.

On Sunday, Christmas Eve, members from the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church visited the City Home and sang Christmas Carols and the pastor delivered an excellent and inspiring address. An entertainment on Tuesday evening was furnished by members of the local Y. P. S. C. E. Societies and the Epworth Leagues of the city. School No. 6 furnished and decorated the Christmas tree. As has been her custom for many years, Miss Edmonston decorated the Home for Christmas, the Young Peoples' Society of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church furnishing the decorations for the entertainment.

On Christmas Day everybody greatly enjoyed a chicken dinner, with all the "fixins," pumpkin pie and ice cream. Through the generosity of the many friends of the Home dozens of pies, cakes and fruit were enjoyed throughout the entire week, ending with New Year's Day when the dinner consisted of home killed fresh pork, sauerkraut, etc., and ice cream and dessert.

There were those in the Home who pronounced it the happiest Christmas they had ever spent.

57 LYNCHINGS IN 1922 FINDS PRINCIPAL MOTON

There were 57 lynchings in the United States in 1922 according to figures compiled by R. R. Moton, principal of the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, 51 of whom were negroes and six whites. The offenses charged against the whites were murder, fighting and charges not reported; against the negroes, rape or attempted rape 19 and other crimes ranging from killing an officer to no special charge. The lynchings all occurred in the south.

MOUNT TREMPER GRANGE ELECTS 1923 OFFICERS.

(Contributed.)

Mount Tremper Grange has elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: Master, A. E. De Silva; overseer, G. C. Hedges; lecturer, Beatrice Zinkgraf; steward, John Gardiner; assistant steward, L. M. Randall; chaplain, S. L. Short; treasurer, Mrs. Connie Weber; secretary, Addie Riskey; gatekeeper, Leon Short; Ceres, Grace Randall; Pomona, Lola Riskey; Flora, Dorothy Short; lady assistant steward, Bertha Randall; finance committee, Miss Carrie Constantine, S. L. Short, Beatrice Zinkgraf; trustee, George Byron.

The newly elected officers were installed by Past Master John Davidson at the regular meeting held December 26, 1922, which was largely attended.

We all know it pays to advertise, so why not advertise our good Grange meetings so that every member shall come and enjoy the good things. Now's the time for a new resolve, for real action, for everybody to get in line.

Let us work on together in a band of united effort to make our Grange a tower of strength. This means helping to support our master for no Grange can run by one or two.

It takes the harmonious cooperation of all. One of the greatest things in life is service to others and we must not get down and feel satisfied with merely past achievements, but keep on striving ahead for something bigger, broader and better.

The Grange is truly the farmer's opportunity and it is up to us to make it a worth while organization. Musical selections and many delightful programs are being planned for the entertainment of all.

Don't be selfish with your good things; tell someone how helpful you find the Grange and urge them to join. Next meeting will be held January 9, 1923, 8 p. m.

REVOLT BREAKS OUT IN MOSUL

Its Inhabitants Demand Annexation to Turkey, Says Ankara Government — Is in British-Controlled State of Iraq.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Constantinople, Jan. 2.—The Turkish Nationalist government at Ankara today confirmed that revolt has broken out in Mosul, the rich Turkish oil fields whose disposition caused a deadlock in the Near East peace conference.

According to a statement issued at Ankara, the inhabitants of Mosul demand annexation of the territory to Turkey.

Mosul was formerly part of the old Ottoman empire. After the war, the Allies detached Mesopotamia, (containing Mosul) from Turkey and placed it under a British mandate. Subsequently the British, in order to placate the Arabs, established a separate state known as the Kingdom of Iraq.

Turkey seeks the return of Mosul. The British, who dominate Iraq, wish it to remain in its present status.

7,400 CARS NEW YORK GRAPES AT $70 PER TON

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Ithaca, Jan. 2.—An indication of the extent to which organization aids the farmer in securing better prices for his products, which now average 20 points lower than prices for other products, is shown in figures issued today on the year's grape crop by the New York State Farm Bureau Federation. New York state growers averaged about $70 a ton, which is above the average price except during the period of the war and immediately after.

Records show New York state growers shipped about 7,400 cars of 10 tons each. At $70 a ton, these shipments returned approximately $518,000 to growers, indicating the tremendous size of the industry. Comparative prices show Chautauque and Penn. Van Concorde ranged somewhat higher in price than Benton Harbor or Northeast Concorde. New York state grapes are sold largely through cooperative organizations, which are at all times supported by the farm bureau federation.

The production of 7,400 cars this year compared with a production of 2,451 cars last year, an increase of 200 per cent. This year's crop was somewhat above normal. Many tons of grapes were hauled to market in motor trucks.

SAY MORNING MEAL IS TOO MUCH NEGLECTED

The child who goes to school breakfastless is handicapped at the start in his day's work. Yet on cold mornings many youngsters would rather stay cozy in their beds till the last moment and then rush off to school without anything to eat. Further, a cup of coffee and a piece of toast are often all that the mother thinks even she herself has time to take for her breakfast.

Going without breakfast seems so harmful from the point of view of health to the nutrition specialists at the state college of agriculture at Ithaca that on the score card used by the women of the state to check up their food habits, ten points are taken off for omitting the morning meal.

Spawning of Salmon.

The spawning of salmon is the basis of an interesting article by a contributor to the Edinburgh Scotsman. Salmon begin in October to gather in the places in the main rivers where they may deposit their eggs. The place selected for spawning is usually at the top or toward the top of a ford or run, though under favorable circumstances the whole of an extensive ford, from top to bottom and from side to side, may be occupied by different pairs of fish. Fairly large gravel is usually preferred, though on occasions the ova may be laid in a rougher bottom, and the size of the stones which may be moved by the salmon in the operation is really surprising. Fine gravel is very seldom selected while, of course, mud and sand, since in them the ova would be smothered, are equally unsuitable and are never used.

Had Missionaries Puzzled.

One of the greatest difficulties with which translators of the Bible have to wrestle is the rendering into another tongue of ideas and words for which there is no equivalent. When translating the Scriptures into the Esquimaux language, the missionaries had to render "the Lamb of God," as "the little Seal of God," since sheep were unknown in Labrador, whereas seals were familiar objects to the natives. In some regions, says the Pall Mall Gazette, the sheep are entirely black, hence the difficulty in translating "white as wool." In many parts of the world fig trees, camels, snow, ice, and scores of other things of which mention is constantly made in the Bible, are totally unknown.

Destroyed Napoleon's Ambitions.

The naval battle of the Nile was fought August 1, 1798, in the Bay of Aboukir (near the Rosetta mouth of the Nile), Egypt, between the British fleet commanded by Admiral Nelson and the French fleet under Admiral Brucey. The French were overwhelmingly defeated with a loss of 5,223 men drowned, burned and missing. Nine of their ships were captured, two were destroyed and two escaped. The English loss was 218 killed and 677 wounded. Nelson was created a baron, with a pension of £2,000 a year for his services in this engagement. The battle of the Nile proved fatal to the success of Bonaparte's Egyptian expedition.

DR. BLOOD WON ARMY HONORS

National Vice Commander of Legion, Only New Hampshire Physician Who Was Decorated.

Advancing with the first wave of infantry and establishing his first-aid dressing station only a few steps from the fallen doughboys at Chateau-Thierry, Dr. Robert O. Blood of Concord, N. H., national vice commander of the American Legion, was awarded the D. S. C., Croix de Guerre and a divisional citation for bravery. Dr. Blood is the only New Hampshire doughboy at physician who was decorated. He rose from first lieutenant to major during his World War service.

Placed on active service August 7, 1918, Dr. Blood sailed for France in September with the One Hundred Fourth Field hospital attached to the Twenty-sixth division. He was transferred to the One Hundred Third Machine Gun battalion and later to the One Hundred Third Infantry, serving on the Chemin des Dames with the latter organization early in 1918. As battalion medical officer, Dr. Blood was with the One Hundred Third Infantry when it drove the Germans from Belleau Woods to Trugny.

Later Dr. Blood was sent to Base Hospital No. 9 at Chateaufort, to the American Red Cross Military hospital at Paris, and then returned to the Twenty-sixth division near Verdun, acting as divisional orthopedic surgeon.

Dr. Blood organized the Concord Legion post and commanded it for two years and one-half, with such success that it became the largest post in New Hampshire. He has served on the state executive committee and has been department commander and national executive committee member since January 1, 1922.

Commissioned a major of artillery in December, 1917, Mr. Scrugham was assigned as production engineer in the ordnance department at Washington.

He served on various special assignments connected with artillery production until after the signing of the armistice.

He was a member of the national executive committee and was chairman of a special committee that drew up the Legion's plan for adjusted compensation which was later embodied in the Fordney bill.

LEGION SHOWS RAISE FUNDS

Carnivals and Other Entertainments Produce Revenue to Aid Sick and Wounded Men.

From one end of the country to the other summer means the open season on field days, carnivals and tent shows. All of these attractions have their booths and probably the most universal of all the booths in all the shows have been those conducted by posts of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary.

With 11,000 Legion posts, most of which have auxiliary units, in nearly every community in the country it couldn't well be otherwise.

A booth conducted by the Auxiliary to Brownsville post of Buffalo, N. Y., at a recent community field day in that place, closed within a few hours after being opened—sold out to the last drop of pink lemonade and ounce of candy. The proceeds from the sale of the drinks and eatables went into the Auxiliary's fund for helping sick and wounded ex-service men, the place where most of the auxiliary funds go.

Author Corrected.

"He said it with such an arch look," a story runs. Tut, tut! That adjective is all right when used to describe a girl's expression, but the only thing that gives a man an arch look is bow legs.

Doctor Scott Makes Denial.

A statement denying that he had characterized the American Legion as "a dying organization," was made by Dr. Hugh Scott, executive of the United States Veterans' bureau. Doctor Scott was quoted in dispatches from New Orleans on October 18, to the effect that he regarded President Harding's veto of the adjusted compensation bill as the death blow of the Legion. His denial was made through the executive headquarters of the Oklahoma department of the Legion and was issued over the signature of Leon H. Brown, state adjutant.

VAN BUREN LECTURE FRIDAY.

"Nothing New Under the Sun" at First Dutch Chapel.

A lecture will be given by the Hon. Augustus H. Van Buren at the chapel of the First Reformed Dutch Church on Friday evening, January 5, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Van Buren has chosen for his subject, "There is Nothing New Under the Sun." As is well known, Mr. Van Buren is a man possessed of high literary attainments and a deep thinker. He has devoted a great deal of time in the preparation of his subject, and when he delivered this lecture some two weeks ago before a body of Masons (although there is nothing in it pertaining to Masonry), it was pronounced one of the best lectures ever given in Kingston. For an hour and a half he held his audience spell-bound. He was persuaded by some of his friends to give the general public an opportunity of hearing it, and he finally consented to give it. The proceeds from the same are to be for his own benefit.

PORK DID NOT KILL SOTTILES

Health Officer Frank A. Johnston stated today that the analysis made by the Kingston laboratory on John Sottile of samples of the pork eaten by the Sottile family on Gill street, which showed that the pork had not caused botulism, had been confirmed by the analysis made of samples sent to the state laboratory at Albany. No word had been received, however, regarding the analysis of the canned goods sent to the state laboratory.

Several weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Sottile of Gill street were taken violently ill after eating breakfast, which consisted among other articles of food of some pork they had purchased the preceding Saturday evening. They died shortly afterward at the Benedictine Hospital of a disease diagnosed as botulism by the attending physician, and it was thought the disease had been contracted from eating the pork.

FOUR IRREGULARS ARE EXECUTED

Free State Shoots More Guerrilla Prisoners in Retaliation for Ambush Attacks.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Dublin, Jan. 2.—The iron hand of Free State military punishment fell upon the Republican irregulars again today when four prisoners were executed in Kerry.

The executed men were Mathew Moroney, Thomas Devane, Cornelius Casey and Dermot O'Connor. All were members of Republican guerrilla bands which had been harassing the Free State troops in the wilds of west Ireland.

The executions were in reprisal for ambushes. General Murphy, commanding the Free State troops in county Kerry, issued public warning three weeks ago that the men who were held as hostages would be executed if further ambush attacks were made. Numerous attacks followed. A military council was called and it was decided to execute Moroney, Devane, Casey and O'Connor. They were shot.

FAMED NEW ENGLAND CHURCH

Edifice Erected at Bennington, Vt., 160 Years Ago, Known All Over the Country.

Early this month the First Congregational church in Bennington, Vt., which has the double distinction of being the first church built in the state of Vermont and the reputation of being the most beautiful example of colonial church architecture in northern New England, celebrated its 160th anniversary.

The Bennington church is famous all over the country. It has been photographed perhaps as often as any church in the United States, a day seldom passing without some tourist halting for a snapshot. It is located on the heights at the western side of the township overlooking Bennington village.

The first church was organized the first week of December, 1762. This was before Vermont had become a separate state, and while it was a part of New Hampshire.

In connection with its construction, there is an entertaining legend. In the days when the Bennington folk decided that they must have a church, there was but one book on church architecture in the whole district, and this was owned by an architect in Bennington. The local folk studied the book and devised the church after suggestions contained in it.

After the church was built it became famous throughout the district and, soon, other townships wanted to build and sent to Bennington to borrow the book. Bennington informed them they would have to come and do their studies in architecture on the spot, as the book would be kept in the town.

From village and hamlet, came committees of builders, carpenters, stone workers and window and interior finishers. The book was lent to them and they met in the church to read and digest it. After their studies were done, the committee used to assemble and discuss the plans for their own church, devising modifications of the design used in Bennington, in order to get original results.

Thus the church became the model for all Vermont's church builders.

Flamingo Curious Bird.
A curious combination of beautiful coloring and ungainly form is presented by the flamingo. In shape it is midway between a goose and a stork, ranging, when full grown, between 5 and 6 1/2 feet in height. Its humped body is supported on legs amazingly long and thin, while its slender neck curves upward like a big letter S, and ends in a small head with a great flat down-curved beak.

The lower part of this beak forms a deep, broad box, into which the upper part fits like a cover. When the bird is feeding on shellfish or water plants in the shallow mud flats the neck is twisted like a corkscrew until the head is upside down; then the top of the beak is pushed along through the mud like a scoop shovel, gathering in the food morsels.

During the nesting period the female builds a curious mound of mud like a tiny volcano, in the crater of which a single egg is laid. On this the mother bird sits with legs drawn up like a grotesque statue on a pedestal.

Fat in Human Body.
The average human body contains enough fat to make seven cakes of soap.

CRIPPLES ON TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP IN TINY "HOME ON WHEELS"

Complying with their physicians' orders, and at the same time escaping the cold and frosty atmosphere of New York, these two cripples have started on a transcontinental trip in their automobile home, which they designed and constructed themselves. To avoid begging, which they detest, they will earn their living en route by selling picture postcards, and playing music. Photo shows: Harold Blumberg (legless), sitting next to the chauffeur, Mr. Schilman, who will accompany them, and Reuben Rosenberg, on crutches, beside the "traveling home."

LEAGUE RULES
WILL BE ENFORCED

Says President Stolz, of New York State Basketball League, in Letter to Manager of Local Team—Morgenweck Demands Square Deal for Followers or He Will Draw From Circuit.

Manager Morgenweck stated Monday evening that he was the recipient of a number of letters recently from President Stolz, of the New York State Basketball League. The recent correspondence between the local manager and the president of the circuit comes out of protests made by upstate teams against the basket upshots used on the local armory court. President Stolz in his letter to Morgenweck stated that a meeting was called, a special one, to which the local manager was not invited at which time it was decided to have the baskets on the local armory court changed.

Morgenweck in his letter showed that the net, basket net, stanchions, and rings were in accordance with regulated professional requirements, and stated further that they would not be changed. Manager Morgenweck also expressed to the president that in his opinion the league was not wholly square, due to the fact that he has had the winning combination, Morgenweck also desired to know why Manager Bill Heppinstall, of the Albany squad, did not pay the $25 fine which should have been imposed upon him for coming on a court with only five players, thereby preventing the referee from disqualifying a player. This and a great number of other matters, which were consistently being violated lately, were brought to the attention of the president. Morgenweck also expressed his intention of pulling out of the circuit if the league was not run squarely, giving patrons their money's worth.

President Stolz's answer to Morgenweck was that he would be willing to resign if the latter would not draw his team from the league and that in the second half race rules would be enforced to the Nth degree. The second half season begins here Wednesday evening, when Amsterdam furnishes the opposition, and the strength of the president's statement as to strict enforcement will be displayed.

BEST GAME HERE
ENDS HALF RACE

Schenectady Does What Other League Teams Couldn't Do, Lead Kingston At Half Time and Hold Them Even Until a Minute and a Half of Closing Time—Locals Undeclared Here, Win 15 to 14.

If Monday night's contest is an indication of the kind of games that the rest of the upstate teams will produce this last half season in the New York State Basketball League, local fandom will be assured of good fast games, where the winner is uncertain to within the last few minutes of play. A win New Year's evening for Schenectady wouldn't get them anything as far as the half league honors were concerned, but they would be the first team in the league circuit to beat the local combination on its home court. This they came pretty nearly doing. Within a minute and a half of closing time the score stood 15 to 14 in the locals' favor. Brucker missed twice and Malone once from the penalty line, throwing away the chances of winning or tying the score. With but four and a half minutes remaining the score was deadlocked 14 all. Benny Borgman took the ball down the court and seeing two upstate players near each other, was clever enough to draw the winning foul point, by running in the path that induced both players at the same time to play him.

Schenectady put up the best fight of any club in the league this season and have the honor of coming off the Kingston court at half time in the lead. As per usual if either club were able to cage a respectable average from the free gift line the victory would have been easily won. Out of 29 attempts Kingston was but able to make good 7; Schenectady did a little better 8 out of 24.

Joe Apple was the referee and from the many protests of the players he was freshly picked and was not very succulent. It was his first appearance. During the first period the players were kept in strict order, but the final round was different, due to the roughness of both teams.

Malone jumped center for the rejuvenated Schenectady team and his work was very noticeable on the tap off, especially against Knoblauch. Malone will be remembered as the center man playing with Kingston, instead of King Lear, against the Celtics last season. During the second half Artie Powers was replaced by C. Husta, Knoblauch going to guard and C. Powers taking the center position. Powers again showed his worth by getting an even break on the toss up and caging two pretty field baskets. McDermott, another new man for the visitors, played a good clean game, opposing Benny Borgman. The latter was able to cage eight points, two field and four fouls, getting the scoring honors for the evening. Thomas, the young upstate forward, was next best with seven points. During the final session Brucker, playing C. Husta, was dismounted six times, the latter was but able to make one good.

The Game.

Norman opened the game with a foul point and was quickly followed by Thomas. Norman was again given a shot from the complimentary line and made good. C. Powers scored Kingston's first point. Malone followed registering a foul and keeping his team in the two point lead. C. Powers soon broke through the defense of the Schenectady squad and rang a field basket. From this point on Borgman and Harvey especially had a gross amount of tries from the floor but were unable to register. The locals' pass work and floor work was up to the standard, the low score with but nine minutes remaining to finish the session was due to the poor shots. Out of half a dozen or more free chances for the local players Benny Borgman was able to sink two, making the total points for the home club the small sum of five. But before the period ended Brucker and Thomas each caged remarkable baskets from the floor. The half ended with Thomas burying one from the fifteen foot mark. The Schenectady team left the court sporting a lead of four points, score 9 to 5.

Second Half.

C. Powers opened the night cap session with another pretty field basket. He was followed by Knoblauch and Thomas each making good from the correction line. Already the switch of players proved effective and it looked as if Kingston would pass right on by the visitors. Benny Borgman came to life and caged a pair of field baskets in rapid fire. He also added a foul point. But this lead was not for long as the local representatives again failed to make good the set shots and free tries. Thomas rings up another field basket and is followed by the score 14 all with but four and a half minutes to play. Benny Borgman very quick-wittedly drew a foul and made good. Harvey was given a free shot but failed as did the up staters in their three free chances. The game wound up with the orange and black boys in the lead 15 to 14.

About eleven hundred fans witnessed the contest and greatly enjoyed the game, a large number saying it was the best fought contest this season. Dancing was enjoyed following the game.

VINCE AND AL SAY
THEY'RE 'RARIN' TO GO.

With both Vince Coffey and Al Cross of Syracuse ready and anxious for the going to ring, there is promise of a lot of action when the pair clashes in the feature bout of twelve rounds at the show of the Knickerbocker Athletic Club in the North Ferry street arena tonight.

Coffey and Cross will weigh in some time this afternoon. Each expects to scale under 148 pounds.

Coffey says that he expects to win a knockout ruling over the Central New York champion but he is not likely to get one. Cross took all that Nate Siegel could hand for twelve rounds and Siegel is a far better puncher than Coffey. Cross is a hard puncher also, and the fight should be a good one to watch.

NEWBURGH RACES PUT

Bradfute Farm Bureau Head.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

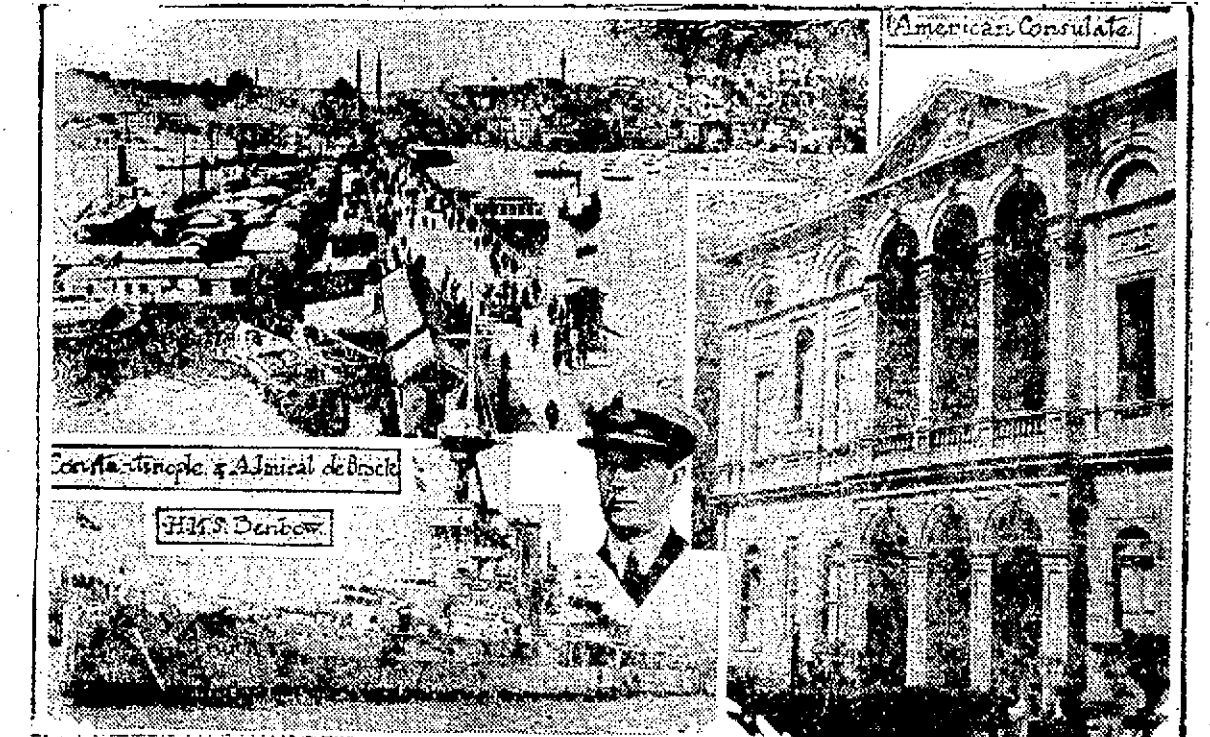

Ithaca, Jan. 2.—Election of Oscar E. Bradfute of Xenia, O., as president of the American Farm Bureau Federation at its annual convention in Chicago, insures the continuance of the steady progress and excellent policies of the organization. Enos Lee, president-elect of the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, said here today. Mr. Bradfute was elected unanimously and by acclamation when James R. Howard presented his resignation.

Mr. Bradfute has been president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation ever since it was established. He has been vice president of the national body for two years, succeeding S. L. Strivings of New York, now a member of the executive committee. He has served for years as trustee of the Ohio State University, an officer of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station and has been actively identified with many civic and religious organizations. As a lifelong breeder and judge of Aberdeen Angus cattle, he has achieved a national reputation.

Grave trouble is feared in Constantinople as a result of the apparent breakdown of the Lausanne conference, and a big British fleet, under Admiral de Brock, is rushing there from Malta. Americans are expected to seek refuge in the American Consulate should there be any necessity for flight.

This is the first photograph of the funerals of F. Watt Daniels and Thomas F. Richards, alleged victims of the Ku Klux Klan whose mutilated bodies were found by troops in Mer Rouge, Louisiana. J. Daniel, father of the deceased, is sitting on the gravestone beside the casket, while the mother, widow and daughter of the dead man are standing at the head of his grave. A flag on the casket testifies that Daniels saw service as a volunteer soldier in France.
